Submit brief answers to the following questions. This assignment will not be graded, though I will review your answers to check your progress. Complete this assignment and save it in a .txt format. Please be sure to include your last name and the course number in the file name, like so: [your name], X436.2, Module 2 Study. Then, submit upload your .txt document by clicking submit on the right hand side of your screen.

1. Why is comparing a string object with == different from comparing it with the method equals()?
2. What is the difference between an empty string ("") and a null?
3. What does "deprecated" mean? Can you think of deprecated features in any other programming languages? How long were they in the language before being removed (or if they are still in them, since when)?
